Fein Fellows Award

For High-Achieving, Low-Income Jewish High School Juniors

Why Apply?
Fein Fellows receive:

- A laptop computer
- An invitation to a QuestBridge National College Admissions Conference at a top college
- Guidance on the college application process
- For select students, a full scholarship to attend the Genesis summer program at Brandeis University

How to Apply?

- Start a free QuestBridge College Prep Scholars Program application in February
- Indicate your religion as “Jewish” on the Personal page and complete the Awards page
- Complete the application by March 22, 2017

The Fein Fellows Award is generously funded by Mr. Edward Fein.

www.questbridge.org/feinfellows  feinfellows@questbridge.org

---

“Through the Fein Fellows Award I was able to attend the Genesis summer program at Brandeis University, allowing me to experience a once in a lifetime summer with like-minded Jewish peers from the United States, Israel, and Russia. Being a Fein Fellow allows me to encourage other Jewish students to push themselves to their best, and not let any circumstance deflate their passions and achievements.”

Ariel Ben-Salmon, Fein Fellow, University of Virginia ’19

---

QuestBridge is a non-profit program that helps high-achieving, low-income students expand their educational opportunities at top colleges. The College Prep Scholars Program for juniors is designed to prepare students for success in college admissions, and includes specialized awards like the Quest for Excellence Fein Fellows Award.